Technuity is an emerging leader in the battery and power products industry. The Company designs, manufactures, and markets licensed accessories products, including batteries, carrying cases, and accessories for imaging, computing, communication, and entertainment devices. Technuity is also the exclusive licensee of the Energizer brand in North America, marketing Energizer-branded products for rechargeable batteries and battery packs for camcorders, cordless phones, digital cameras, and DVD players, as well as for power supply systems, automatic voltage regulators and surge protectors. Lavelle continued, "We expect this deal to add in excess of $30 million to our annual sales and at higher margins than our core business. This business is growing and will be accretive to our bottom line. We intend to continue to pursue strategic acquisitions within our core competencies that can generate higher and sustainable returns for our shareholders over the long-term."

The Company expects this acquisition to close on November 1, 2007.
