FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Legendary Klipsch Heritage Speakers Inspire New Products

Indianapolis, Ind. (January 8, 2018) — Klipsch®, a tech-driven audio company and wholly-owned subsidiary of VOXX International Corporation (NASDAQ: VOXX), today announces that its entire legendary Heritage series of speakers will be showcased at CES 2018, along with new products inspired by the line. The classic Heritage speakers were created by founder Paul W. Klipsch (PWK) with the intention to deliver the power, detail, emotion of the live music experience into the home. The company continues to hand-build the five horn loaded speakers in Hope, Ark. – the Klipschorn®, La Scala, Cornwall, Forte, and Heresy.

Klipsch has seen increased demand over the last several years for premium two-channel speakers that deliver legendary Klipsch sound. Each Heritage speaker features nostalgic yet updated cosmetics, stunning new finishes to match modern decor, and the latest advancements in acoustic engineering, while maintaining the powerful performances that have made them so iconic over the years.

Encouraged by the success of this classic series, Klipsch will continue to introduce Heritage inspired products with many of the same aesthetic and acoustic characteristics. Heritage Wireless speakers The Sixes, The Three and The One, and HP-3 headphones allow people to conveniently listen to music. The new Heritage Theater Bar is customizable in length, wood finishes and grille cloth materials.

Klipsch will have active demonstrations of the Klipschorn, Cornwall, and Forte speakers in Venetian suite 29-105 during CES 2018 in Las Vegas, NV. Special finishes, grille cloths, and other classic and inspired Heritage products will also be displayed in the suite. Additionally, several premium brands will be showcased in the suite, including Audioquest, Cary Audio, MoFi, Primare, Solidsteel, and VPI Industries.
